Canadians Are Pushing Ahead Despite Floods

Allies Battle Flood Waters Of Rhine As Well As Nazi Resistance

SLUICE GATES ARE OPENED BY ENEMY

(BULLETIN)
PARIS, Feb. 15.—(INS)—Allied forces pushed within three miles of the Siegfried bastion town of Goch today, while Canadian First Army forces, in steady, unspectacular advances, moved eastward across German territory toward the communications center of Emmerich.

PARIS, Feb. 15.—Canadian First Army Forces, battling flood waters of the Rhine as well as the Nazis, advanced steadily eastward across Reich territory today toward the communications center of Emmerich.

British and Dominion troops employed amphibious "Buffaloes" and "Ducks" in maneuvers through Rhine towns inundated when the enemy opened sluice gates to impede the Canadian First Army advance.

While troops above Cleve pressed ahead in the direction of Emmerich other forces to the south hammered forward against stiffening German resistance toward the Siegfried line bastion town of Goch. The 10,000-yard stretch of the west bank of the Rhine seized by the allied forces on Tuesday was steadily expanded.

Canadians Gain

Fresh inroads into German west-wall fortifications were made by the Canadians behind withering aerial assaults which blasted German gun emplacements and helped the ground forces beat back Nazi counter-assaults.

Reports to headquarters indicated that the Germans suffered severe damage as a result of yesterday's formidable air onslaughts over the battle area and the Rhine valley.

The Canadian advance on the Rhine was pressed all along the front from Millingen to a point opposite Emmerich, with the main allied units drawing up to the waterway from points only 1,000 to 2,000 yards distant.

Bayonet fighting was reported in the vicinity of Kellies, at the southern tip of the Reich forest four miles northwest of Goch between Scottish troops and the Germans.

Advances were pressed down the

PA NEWC Observes

State-wide participation in observing National Brotherhood Week beginning February 18 was urged today by Governor Martin. "National Brotherhood Week exemplifies the striving of all good citizens for a better America and a better world," the chief executive stated. "The sufferings and anxieties of war bring forcefully to our attention the need of unity and better understanding."

A Leisure avenue resident telephoned Pa Newc that about 9:45 o'clock this morning, she saw four chirping robins in the pear tree of her back yard, and four other robins in a neighboring tree giving forth with their "song of spring". In addition, she related "And I also saw a pair of cardinals", earlier.

Manila's Value As Allied War Base Is Not Impaired

By LEE VAN ATTA
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Luzon, Feb. 15.—High-ranking army officers agreed today that up to this point the value of Manila as a vital military objective and a vital potential base for all allied arms in the Pacific has not been impaired by the wanton and ruthless destruction of the city.

The toll of dead and wounded among the harmless civilian population cannot be accurately estimated at present although casualties run into tens of thousands, and the monetary damage inflicted on the once-proud capital mounts into countless millions but it still remains of value to the American forces.

Anchorage Still Intact

The key breakwater anchorage in Manila bay are still intact, big warehouses north and east of the Pasig river which have always been essential to any mighty army and navy machine are virtually intact except for isolated fire damage; the key arterial bridges from warehouse and staging areas to the American Troops Make 11 Miles Advance On Historic Bataan Against Enemy

GEN. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Luzon, Feb. 15.—American "Long Tom" artillery poured volley after volley today into trapped Japanese forces stubbornly resisting in the Fort William McKinley district of Manila, while on historic Bataan in 11-mile advance netted the Yanks strategic Abucay on the peninsula's east coast inside Manila Bay.

As Gen. Douglas MacArthur's First Cavalry, 1st airborne and 37th infantry division elements compressed "gradually" the iron circle upon the trapped Japs inside Manila, troops of the 11th Corps spurred 11 miles south of the Olongapo-Dinalupihan road at the base of the Bataan peninsula to seize Abucay, which the official communique described as "the eastern anchor of our first defense line in the 1942 campaign."

Final Stage In Bataan

Other Americans, directly across the promontory jutting into Manila Bay, reached the west coast port of Moron several days ago. The two forces thus appeared setting the stage for the final phase of the "second battle of Bataan."

(The Japanese Domei agency indicated that a direct seaborne thrust into Manila may be in the offing with the report that "some ten enemy transports, apparently carrying fresh invasion forces" were following in the wake of more than 20

Big Jap Aircraft Plant Target Of U. S. Bombers

By WILLIAM E. ZIMMERMAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The Jap aircraft manufacturing center of Nagoya was blasted anew today by mighty formations of United States Superfortress bombers.

An hour after Washington headquarters of the 20th air force revealed a fresh daylight assault by B-29's on the main Jap home island of Honshu the Japanese Domei agency announced the principal target was Nagoya.

A Jap imperial headquarters communique said that some 60 Superfortresses had carried out the raids and conceded that "some damage" resulted.

Domei, according to a wireless dispatch recorded by the FCC, said that in addition to the Nagoya area targets in the Mie prefecture were hammered.

Great Waves Of Bombers Smash At Both Fronts

All Out Aerial Blitz Is Continued Against Many Points In Germany

REPORT OVER 10,000 SORTIES IN 24 HOURS

(BULLETIN)

LONDON, Feb. 15.—(INS)—Massive formations of American heavy bombers roared to within 50 miles of the Red Army front in Germany today to pound the rail center of Kottbus and the key metropolis of Dresden in continuation of the record pounding which has sent nearly 12,000 planes over the Reich in some 24 hours.

By THURSTON MACAULEY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The shattering Allied air offensive to disrupt German communications behind the fighting lines of the Eastern and Western fronts was maintained by United States Eighth Air Force bombers in daylight today after more than 1,300 night-flying R.A.F. heavyweights dealt a double blow to the rail supply point of Chemnitz, 35 miles southwest of Dresden.

A brief Eighth Air Force communique announcing Yank planes again were over the Reich did not immediately disclose specific targets. Enemy air alerts indicated the attack was being pressed by several waves of bombers.

The presence of fresh formations of Allied bombers over the Reich to pursue the heaviest bombing of Germany since the outbreak of the war was first reported by the Nazi radio at 10 a. m. London time (5 a. m. EWT).

Great Forces In Raids

Great forces of United States heavyweight bombers crossed the East Anglian coast toward the continent. The vanguard went out from England before dawn.

Powerful groups of Allied fighter planes crossed the Straits of Dover repeatedly since dawn, augmenting the tactical air forces based on the continent.

South American Governments Rush To Declare War

Move Made So They Can Be Admitted To United Nations Conference In April

By LEON PEARSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—It was officially acknowledged today that the South American governments have been told they must declare war on the Axis before they can be admitted to the San Francisco conference to draw up a peace organization.

This explained the rush of war declarations during the past few days. Ecuador, Paraguay, Peru and Chile have declared war on one or both of the Axis powers, and yesterday they were formally taken into the United Nations family.

Similar action is expected from Venezuela and Uruguay, thus leaving Argentina as the only non-belligerent in the western hemisphere.

Meantime, the Yalta declaration brought such confusion to two European governments—Poland and Yugoslavia—that it was doubtful they could be represented at the San Francisco United Nations conference.

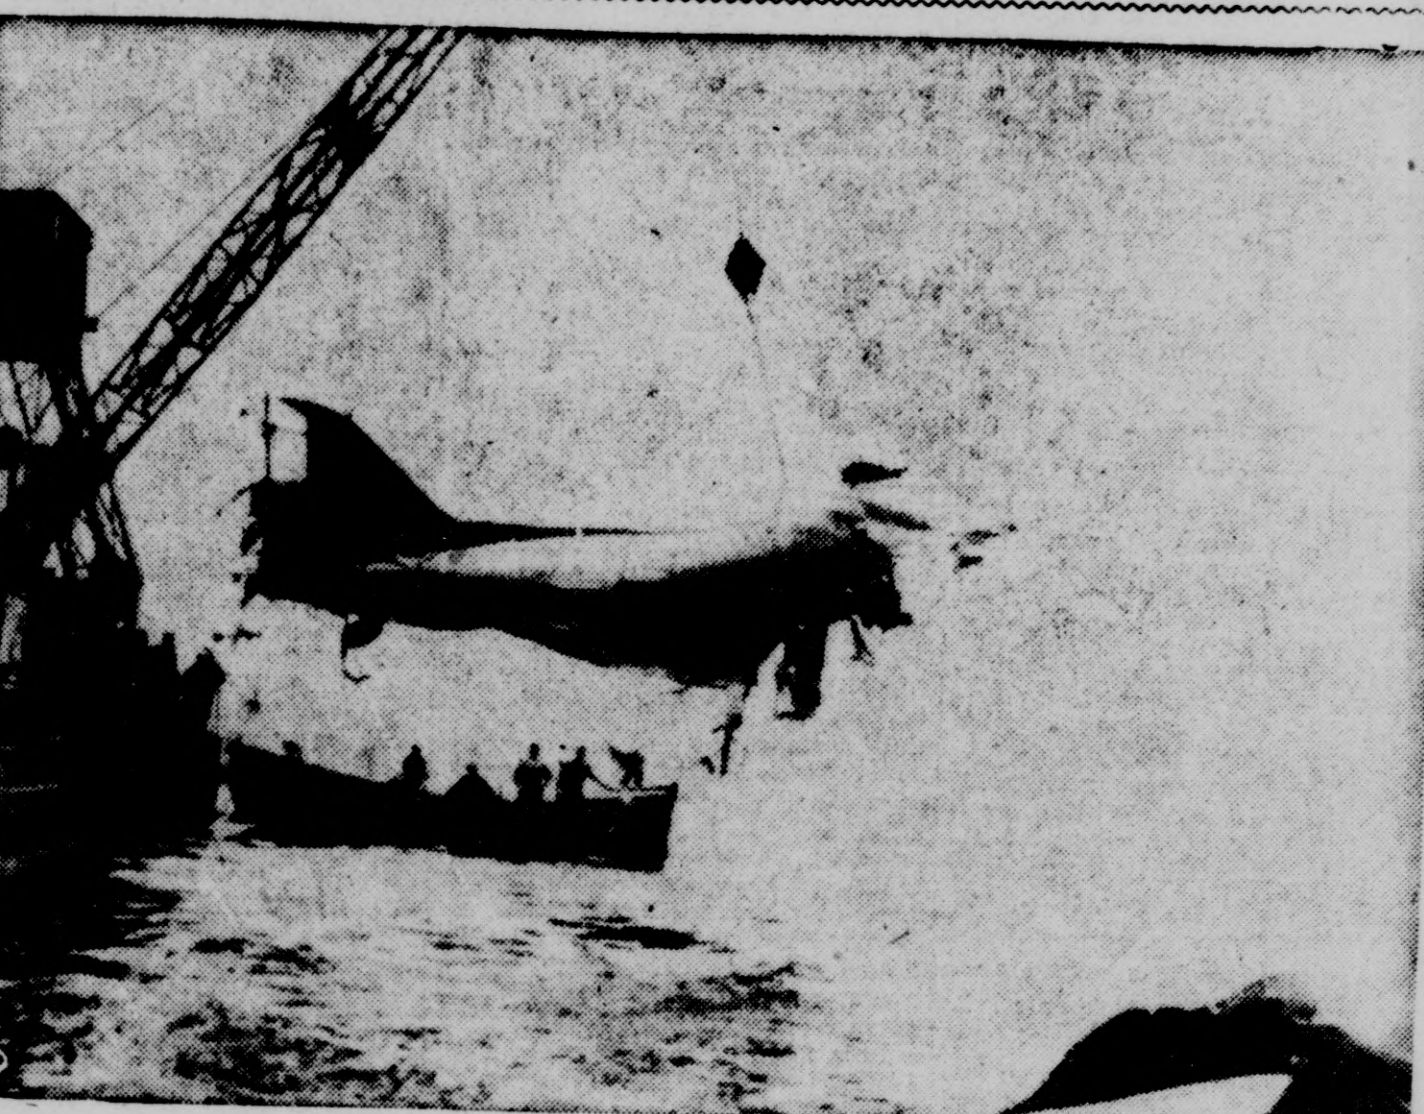

Though the State department insists that the recent war declarations are being made on the initiative of each country, diplomatic circles revealed that the suggestion was made in a pointed letter from Washington.

KEEP UP BOMBING

ADM. NIMITZ ADVANCED HEADQUARTERS, Guam, Feb. 15.—(INS)—Continued bombardment of Iwo Jima in the Volcano Islands was announced today by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz who revealed that Seventh Air Force Liberators dropped explosives on that isle for the 69th consecutive day.

Results could not be observed of the latest strike, which took place February 13, the same day that other bombers hit Haha Jima in the nearby Bonins.

School Board Seeks To Sell Old Buildings

Three old time school buildings, the Lawrence, the Terrace avenue and the W. N. Aiken, all of them closed for years, will be advertised for sale by the New Castle school board. The action was decided upon Wednesday night by the board of school directors, following a suggestion by Superintendent Frank L. Burton.

In his report to the board Mr. Burton suggested that the Lawrence school be offered for sale. Mr. Burton said the school was built in 1900, was outdated, had been closed since the school year of 1931-32, and would probably never be used as a school again because it could not be made into a modern school plant.

Mr. Burton also suggested that Terrace Avenue and Aiken schools be advertised for sale also.

There was some little discussion of the proposal, with the directors agreed that the three buildings were not useable by the school system now and that it would be a piece of good business to sell them. Accordingly Secretary and Business Manager John B. Bechtel was authorized to advertise for bids for the buildings.

The Lawrence building and the Terrace Avenue building are about the same age. The W. N. Aiken school on Pearson street, once known as the Central school and before that the Reynoldstown school is one of the landmarks of the city. It is the oldest school building in the city but like the other two has been closed for a number of years.

Slight Withdrawal Is Made In Italy

German Attack On West Coast Forces Allied Units To Draw Back Somewhat

By MICHAEL CHINIGO
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ROME, Feb. 15.—(INS)—A German attack on the west coast of Italy forced Allied Fifth Army units to withdraw "slightly" after the Nazis infiltrated between the towns of Stretella and Seravezza, Allied Mediterranean headquarters announced today.

Fifth Army forces also withdrew in the Serchio valley following a raid by Field Marshal Albert Kesselring's troops, but promptly regained their positions.

Repel Patrols

Brazilian troops repelled enemy patrols northeast of Africa and sent their own raiding party out north-east of Gaggio and engaged in a skirmish with enemy forces.

On the right flank of the Fifth Army's sector, Allied patrols clashed with the enemy in the vicinity of Mount Belmonte and suffered casualties from heavy German artillery fire.

New B-29 Base On Tinian Island

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(INS)—Gen. H. H. Arnold, commanding the army air forces, today announced creation of a new B-29 Superfortress base at Tinian in the Mariana Islands.

A new wing of the 21st Bomber Command is now striking strong blows against the Japanese homeland from a base on the same island.

Nazi Agents Found Guilty

Two Tried For Espionage Are Under Death Sentence Of Military Commission

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—(INS)—William Curtis Colepaugh and Erich Gimpel, the two German agents who were landed on the Maine coast by submarine last November, were under sentence of death by hanging today following the swift decision of a special military commission.

The two men—Colepaugh, a native of Niantic, Conn., and Gimpel, a German national—were found guilty of violating the law of war, the 82nd article of war and conspiracy yesterday—just two months and 26 days after they were set ashore by a Nazi U-boat.

Army authorities said that the verdicts and sentences handed down by the seven-man commission will now go to the commanding general of the Second Service Command for review and then will be passed on to a board of review in Washington.

Neither of the doomed men showed signs of emotions as they heard their sentences pronounced in the closed court on Governor's Island late yesterday afternoon.

Gave No Testimony

Gimpel, who presented no testimony on his own behalf during the trial, notified the commission through his counsel that he felt he had received a "most fair and impartial trial."

The verdict was decided by secret ballot.

Counsel for the 26-year-old Colepaugh in his summation argued that the youth, once a sailor in the U. S. Navy, had made an attempt to straighten out the situation he was in.

Colepaugh's story—that his zeal for spying and committing sabotage against his native land had diminished steadily after his return to this country—was attacked by the prosecution as "a series of lies."

The death penalty, mandatory once the men were found guilty of violating the 82nd article of war, will be carried out at a time and place designated by the commander of the Second Service Command, Maj. Gen. Thomas A. Terry, if the sentences are upheld during review.

Russian Forces Smashing Ahead Toward Dresden

One Report Says Spearheads Are Within 45 Miles Of Important German City

AIR FORCES ALSO BATTER DRESDEN

By NATADIA RENE
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

MOSCOW, Feb. 15.—Spearheads of the Soviet First Ukrainian army were reported to have smashed westward today to reach points along the Neisse river only 53 miles from bomb-torn Dresden while the northern wing of Marshal Ivan Konev's army maneuvered to outflank Berlin.

(An NBC broadcast from Moscow said Konev's forces had swept 60 miles from Liegnitz and at last reports were 45 miles from Dresden and 72 miles from Prague.)

Britain's Royal Air Force lent new support to the onrushing Soviet armies, smashing again at the principal rail line leading through Dresden eastward to the Silesian battle-front.

After Dresden itself was battered in formidable night and day raids yesterday by the British and American heavy bombers, more R. A. F. squadrons went out in darkness last night to hammer the rail supply point of Chemnitz, 35 miles southwest of Dresden.

Take Over 200 Towns

Marshal Konev's forces swarmed up the west bank of the Oder river in a drive threatening the Reich capital from the south, scooping up more than 200 towns and villages to roll up advances of almost 13 miles.

The sweep toward Dresden carried the Soviets forward 22 miles from positions at which the Russians were last officially reported.

Mechanized Russian spearheads captured groups of towns along the route and sealed off numerous others which were by-passed.

Soviet spearheads were believed fighting for bridgeheads across the Neisse while simultaneously launching an assault on the city of Goerlitz. Goerlitz, situated on the Neisse, is the hub of a large industrial area and junction of several highways and rail lines.

Marshal Konev's new gains placed the northern and central wings of his army in firm hold on almost 150 miles of the upper Oder river. These forces overran the vital rail junction of Neusalz, 75 miles northwest of encircled Breslau and less than 100 miles from the German capital.

Smashes Toward Koenitz

Simultaneously the northern wing of Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's First Ukrainian army fought its way through the German province of Pomerania north of Bromberg for gains of more than six miles in a smash toward Koenitz, seizing Luchau, two and one-half miles south of the goal, and 50 other localities.

The Germans launched bitter and costly counter-attacks in a desperate attempt to stem the drive against Koenitz, but lost more than 1,500 men, 1,000 of whom were killed. German losses in dead and captured on all fronts reached the

The ice is a small irritation, the snow doesn't bother at all, for creaking his ear to the soft springy wind, he seems to detect a faint call. The call of the green and the fairway, the call of the drive and the putt, the call of the mashie and nineteenth hole, the one he still can't play, nothing but. Let the ice still be thick on the sidewalk, it can't be here long says the date, so he shines up his clubs and his attire, and the weather is up, forty-eight.

U. S. Commission Rules Hatch Act Violations Shown

Reports On Charges In Case Of Eight Pennsylvania State Employees

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(INS)—The U. S. Civil Service commission today ruled that eight Pennsylvania state employees had been found guilty of violating the Hatch act and recommended that findings against three "warrant removal" from their jobs.

The commission found that Dr. Alexander H. Stewart, secretary of health; Tom E. Williams, director of the bureau of vital statistics and Sarah V. Robertson, employee of the health department, had violated Section 12 (A) of the Hatch act and that the violations warranted removal from employment with the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The commission ruled that five other state employees "were found to have violated Section 12 (A) of the act, but not in a manner to warrant removal from their positions."

They were: Ralph Irwin, director of the bureau of milk sanitation; Mary Kosevay, Anna Elie Krum, Elsie Fomblinski and Isabelle M. Brown, employees of the department of health.

The evidence "did not sustain charges against" Charles R. Reynolds, director of the bureau of tuberculosis control; Dr. Paul Dodds, director of the bureau of maternal and child health; Joseph Shilen, director of the bureau of industrial hygiene; Earl J. MacNamara, chief of the division of accounts, and Dorothy J. Dietz, an employee of the health department. Charges against them have been dismissed.

The case against Bonnie Powell, health department employee, now on active duty as a Spar, was dismissed because she comes under jurisdiction of the soldiers and sailors relief act. This provides for a stay of judicial proceedings against a person in the armed forces.

Polish Premier Scorns Agreement

LONDON, Feb. 15.—(INS)—Premier Thomasz Arcizewski, leaving a meeting of the Polish exile government's cabinet in London today, declared flatly that he refused to accept the "Big Three" decision at Yalta to establish the Russo-Polish frontier along the Curzon line.

"It would mean the surrender of too much territory and the committing of too many Poles to slavery," he said.

YANK ARTILLERY HAMMERS JAPS INSIDE MANILA

American minisweepers which had been active at the mouth of Manila Bay.

The Tokyo radio admitted that the Japs cannot hope to hold the southern end of Luzon, but would make their stand in northern portions of the Philippines' Queen Island. At the same time, the enemy's Domei agency declared that American minisweepers have begun to clear the channel north of Corregidor at the entrance to Manila Bay.

Still Battle In Manila

Inside Manila there was little change in the fighting which continued fiercely as the Americans of MacArthur's command made "slight" gains into remaining enemy pockets. The foe's final suicide lines within the capital extended roughly a mile-and-one-half down the Alle San Marcelino from the Pasig river, and terminates at Harrison Park.

The Japanese troops are cut off on three sides and fighting with their backs to the bay.

In the Fort McKinley area, the enemy fought fiercely from strongly entrenched positions, employing dual purpose guns from powerful pillbox positions.

American warplanes, supporting the ground troops in all sectors joined the fight for Fort McKinley. Fighters and divebombers strafed and bombed the Japs inside the defenses and frontline dispatches indicated that the enemy troops—despite ferocity of their fight—are steadily although slowly crumbling.

Four-motored American bombers dropped another 107 tons of bombs on the coastal guns at Corregidor, to which the Japs were attempting to flee for a potential "last ditch" stand. Meantime, fighters of the Far Eastern airforce swooped down at minimum altitude to strafe enemy concentrations on the east coast of Batan.

Petty Officer Patton has been in service for two years, and has been overseas the greater part of this time, serving in New Caledonia, Tulagi, Guadalcanal, New Georgia, Russell Island, New Britain, Bougainville, and Vella La Vella, taking part in the invasion of the latter spot.

After a 30-day leave, P. O. Patton will go to Norfolk, Va., for reassignment. A brother, Petty Officer Robert L. Patton, is now somewhere in the Pacific, but they have not met each other for two years.

Patton's Forces Gain

Southward some 160 miles along the westwall, Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's third army forces scored a gain of a mile to a point a mile and one-half north of Westchewer in the only important action reported. The gain was made by the fifth infantry division.

Although ground forces were comparatively inactive, allied fighter-bombers stepped up the destruction of German towns immediately behind the battle line between Pruem and Bitburg.

American Thunderbolts, at the call of ground units, systematically erased every German village stronghold in and behind the Siegfried line eastward to the Rhine.

Units of the 76th division were reported to have mopped up additional pillboxes in the Echtenach area, bringing their total eliminated since Feb. 7 to 80. More than 200 prisoners were taken in the mopping-up operations.

Tactical aircraft enjoyed one of their biggest field days of the war yesterday to smash at enemy communications and strongpoints. Teaming up with the U. S. eighth air force which struck deep into Germany, allied bombers carried out a record total of 7,000 sorties from England and western Europe.

air blows from the Mediterranean and the R.A.F. night attack on Chemnitz.

German air warnings indicated that planes of the Mediterranean Air Force again were over Reich territory to coordinate blows by craft from Britain. The Germans said a bomber force was approaching Carinthia and Styria from the south.

Stretch Hundreds of Miles

Streams of Allied warplanes stretching for hundreds of miles above the Reich were reported by the German radio.

One spearhead was reported approaching Thuringia while the tail of the attacking column still was over Osnabrueck, some 130 miles to the northwest.

A second wave stretched from Rheine back across the Zudier Zee, a distance of 70 miles.

Another 100-mile bomber stream was reported by the Nazis who said the spearhead was over Nordhausen while the tail still was at Bielefeld.

The heavyweights of the Royal Air Force also blasted an oil plant at Rositz, south of Leipzig, in the campaign to immobilize the German war machine.

In addition, the war-torn capital of Berlin was subjected to another aerial bombardment.

gigantic total of 32,300, the Soviet communists disclosed, more than 12,000 of them being left dead on the flaming east front battlefields.

Besides the 2,100 captured and 4,000 killed in the fighting north of Bromberg, the First Russian army captured another 5,000 and killed 7,000 Nazis as they seized the big rail junction of Schneidemuhl, by-passed several weeks ago.

Budapest Costly To Nazis

The sweeping drive of the First Ukrainian army also cost the Nazis heavily. Incomplete reports revealed Marshal Konev's men killed more than 4,000 German officers and men and captured 2,100 as they swept up the west bank of the Oder.

Meanwhile the fall of Budapest netted another 12,700 German and Hungarian prisoners. The additional bag brought total German losses in the bitter defense of the Hungarian capital to 171,000, almost 50,000 of whom were killed in defending the city from street to street.

In mopping up Budapest the Soviets captured three Axis generals and found two others dead.

waterfront proper are unharmed, and the city's population itself on which the reconstruction of Manila as "Pearl of the Orient" must necessarily depend still has adequate housing and food enough to exist until the full weight of United States assistance can be devoted to reconstruction.

One ranking officer estimated that it would take the civilian labor available in Manila only three weeks to restore order to the main thoroughfares and residential districts of the city although naturally it will be many months before rebuilding can effectively blot out the terrible destruction the enemy has caused.

The Ermita, Intramuros and Paco districts, which are the most favorable areas to all European and American visitors, simply do not exist any longer. What still stands is a battle ground today and it will be shattered with the rest. Already the historic Bayview hotel has been destroyed by the Japanese invaders retreat to their last stand on the shores of Manila bay.

Serious Situation Confronting France

PARIS, Feb. 15.—The story of France is like the tale of the blind men and the elephant. It has many sides, and the side you see first is the one you are likely to generalize about as typical of all France.

Many Americans come here, buy expensive meals on the black market, stay at the few heated hotels and conclude that the plight of France is greatly exaggerated for the purpose of obtaining more aid from the U. S. A. Others come here, spend a few days and glitzy report that the children they see in the upper class districts are well fed.

No one on the basis of a brief stay can possibly judge the complex situation. But I have talked with what seemed to me competent witnesses, both Americans and British, who believe that France is at the end of her rope. They base their conclusions not on surface observations, but on careful study of the conditions beneath the surface.

Of course, people are not dropping dead in the streets, as in the famine in the Far East, and it's quite possible that France has enough food, with the exception of fats, to feed her own people. What is serious is the disintegration of the system of production and distribution in a complex industrial civilization.

It is not so much the condition that exists today, although that is serious enough, as the status of the population three months or six months from now unless remedial steps are quickly taken. Even more serious, perhaps, are the long-term consequences of hunger and inflation, twin evils that threaten the French people today. We should have learned by now that these evils lead to political absolutism, whether it is called Fascism or Communism.

Over the question of the plight of France, a tug of war has been going on for many weeks. The French government, backed by the British, have been arguing the case for more aid. The American government, backed by the British, have been arguing the case for more aid. The American government, backed by the British, have been arguing the case for more aid.

Part of the British fleet is now in the Bay of Bengal, and all of it might have operated in those waters in the campaign to retake Singapore and the East Indies. But Prime Minister Churchill was aware that developments which will overpower Japan will not come from that direction. They will come from the direction of the Philippines.

To what extent Britain's participation will influence Pacific strategy is to be seen. It could be sufficiently influential to persuade Nimitz and MacArthur to select Hong Kong as the point of penetration on the China coast. The United States has recovered its greatest Pacific asset—Luzon. The British may reason that it is time they, too, were getting something of value back. Next to the loss of Singapore, the fall of Hong Kong was their greatest humiliation.

Recapture of Hong Kong would advance the conflict against Japan by providing a great China coast base for future operations in cutting Japan's line of communications and in supplying Chinese forces. If the Hong Kong operation does not eventuate, it will not be because Britain is opposed to the idea.

Where They Go

It is not always easy for Americans to understand why when such prodigious numbers of planes have been built so many more are needed. The answer is not simply the desire of the Air Forces to maintain an overwhelming superiority over the enemy, although this enters into the picture.

The main reason is that constant, heavy replacements are necessary merely to hold American air armada at its present strength.

In an effort to assist the public in comprehending what has happened to the tens of thousands of planes built since Pearl Harbor, the Army Air Force recently released statistics on certain types of planes. Of one type of fighter, for instance, 11,106 planes have been turned out since the war began. Of this particular plane only 1,920 are now in service in battle zones overseas.

The remaining 9,000 are not idle. Ten per cent were sent to various Allies on lend-lease and another 10 per cent are undergoing repairs or being held in reserve. Five per cent are en route somewhere between factory and the battle zones.

And 40 per cent—four out of every ten—have been lost either through enemy action or in operation accidents.

Costly Slip For Japanese

Manila wasn't the only item of value the Japanese lost in the Luzon campaign. They lost something they didn't know they had—an item of value. The Japanese price on his head, dead or alive.

The story of this item is one of the most dramatic to come out of the liberation of thousands of Allied nationals in the Philippines. The item is W. H. Donald, a native of Australia but a prominent figure in Chinese government circles for many years.

Mr. Donald spent 33 years in China, first as a newspaperman, then as secretary to Dr. Sun Yat-sen, first president of the Chinese Republic, then as adviser to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. He was an inveterate enemy of the Japanese and was known to them as "the evil spirit of China."

Mr. Donald fell into Japanese hands when a ship on which he was a passenger was captured off New Zealand. He was taken to a Philippines internment camp. The Japanese learned that Mr. Donald was a prisoner of theirs, but never knew which one. He used another name and gave his age as 69, which was correct but led Japanese investigators to believe he was too old to be the man they were seeking.

Mr. Donald lived in the internment camp for three years, during which recognition by the Japanese would have meant his instant death. His true identity came to light after his liberation by American forces on Luzon.

It is not hard to picture Mr. Donald's relief at his new-found freedom—and his satisfaction as the chagrin and frustration the Japanese must feel at having had one of their principal enemies at their mercy and letting him slip through their fingers. The ship is likely to cost them dearly if Mr. Donald returns to the scene of his former endeavors in China and has anything to say about the eventual peace terms for Japan.

Wallace Affair A Signpost

The delay in confirmation of Henry Wallace as secretary of commerce is an event casting its shadow ahead. It is indicative of many battles between Congress and the President—battles which will involve some of the most weighty issues to come before the American people in two decades.

The Wallace affair is, to a large measure, a sign that Congress is to be more argumentative than any which has served with Mr. Roosevelt.

Congressional delay in approving Wallace is a hint that the men of Capitol Hill want to be consulted; that even a mild form of dictatorship is to be repelled by the lawmakers.

Some analysts saw the Wallace nomination as an effort by Mr. Roosevelt to bury both Jesse James and the former vice president with one fell swoop—through firing one and feeding the other to the senatorial vultures. We do not believe that. We give the President credit for common decency, and he deserves to be decent to Henry Wallace after the latter had turned the other cheek following Chicago. We believe the nomination was what it appears on the face—an effort to give Wallace a job.

Congress is in a combative mood. Wallace is likely to be confirmed—eventually—because he might prove a dangerous foe to men within the Democratic party if he isn't. But, just as surely as the Senate balked at Wallace, it will balk at some of the other items certain to come before it: the peace treaties, compulsory military service, the international set-up, social security, reciprocal trade agreements, the international bank. These issues already have foes within Congress. Some will be passed in modified form only after the stiffest sort of a fight.

The net result of Congress' attitude will be on the good side. America may get tired of bickering and so will Congress, but in the end a better balance between the White House and Capitol Hill should be assured.

Scarcity has always been the best sales argument. More meat will be eaten this year and more cigarettes smoked than in 1943. But in 1935 people did not line up to buy either because both were available in great abundance.

CONDOLANCE

"How soon after hearing of a death should a letter of condolence be written and under what circumstances should it be written. That is, even though a letter has been made on the bereaved, must a letter be written? Is it necessary to answer letters of condolence and return calls of condolence?"

Answer: Those who do not know the family well enough to attend the funeral or services should wait in a week or so after the funeral make a call of condolence. When this is not possible, a letter should be written. Either should be done as an act of friendship, but when a call has been made a letter should not be sent.

All letters, notes and telegrams of sympathy, as well as flowers, must be acknowledged by some members of the family. Such acknowledgements should be in the form of notes on a visiting card, will suffice. "Thank you for your kind sympathy"—when there is a great number to be sent. A note, however, is preferable to close friends.

At the death of a noted person, when messages of condolence and flowers run into great numbers, it is impossible to send personal notes. The family then sends to acquaintances and strangers engraved cards of acknowledgement. Relatives and friends must, however, be thanked by personal note.

Calls of condolence need not be returned.

Question: I am going to give a party for my brother who is returning from overseas. Since there are plenty of girls around but few boys (all of them being in service) I thought I would invite some boys from an air base near us. I don't know any of them. Would it be proper to invite them through the commanding officer?

Answer: Yes, you might call on person or telephone the C. O. telling him of your party and the number of men you wish invited. I am sure he will be glad to give them your invitation, bearing in mind that if your brother is an officer, only officers at the base unit must be invited and if he is a non-com, his guests must be non-coms also or privates.

People Have Right To Know Yalta Facts

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15. THERE IS, of course, vastly more to the Black Sea conference than to the official communiqué. Aside from the general approval of the announced agreements, most of which were inevitable, the question arises as to how much more we are to be told. A day or so ago, an authoritative Administration spokesman said that when Mr. Roosevelt returns he undoubtedly will acquaint a group of selected House and Senate members with the "background" of the Black Sea conference in order that they may understand more fully the agreements there reached. He will not, it was said, address the entire Congress, nor even the nation except in a general way. But he does think it desirable for certain key men to know what is behind the official communiqué. These, he will invite to the White House for a talk.

THIS, of course, is very kind of the President, very kind, indeed. But it is by no means satisfactory either to Congress or to the American people. That is the way they were treated after the Tehran conference and, in fact, after every one of the several international conferences which he has attended. There are signs that both Congress and the people are getting extremely tired of the treatment. The President has not gone to these conferences representing himself. He has gone representing the country, and the country has a right to know more about them from him than it has known before. It is tired of being talked down to on international affairs; it is tired of being told only what he thinks it well for it to know; it is tired of having no independent channel of information on these vital matters.

IN THE PAST, news of where and when these conferences were held has come to us first from England and Russia. And after the way over, the real information as to what was discussed and what was done has come to us not from our own President but through the British Prime Minister's full and frank reports to the House of Commons. At no time has Mr. Roosevelt talked to the American people with the candor Mr. Churchill has talked to the British people. For a long time there has been increasing resentment on the count. It was strongly voiced the other night by Governor Dewey in his Lincoln Day speech and newspapers, generally, are increasingly restive over the way in which Mr. Roosevelt has sidetracked the press, made it impossible for newspaper men to accompany him and arrogated to himself the sole right to inform the people.

IF UPON his return the President attempted, as his spokesmen has attempted, to continue this policy, the expression of discontent will be very much more concrete and emphatic. Apparently, except for possible reassuring radio talk to the nation, he proposes to confine his "background" conversations to the aforesaid selected group and the White House press conferences, which he controls so completely that he is able patronizingly to laugh off any question he does not want to answer, and talk entirely on his own terms. If this happens again, the people and Congress will get no more of the real story of this conference than they did of the Tehran conference, about which it is agreed they got very little. If there were military or security reasons for this sort of silence, no one would protest. But these reasons do not seem to exist—certainly not in the case of Churchill is concerned. The kind of secret diplomacy which the President has been pursuing in these conferences is a vast contrast to the "open covenants openly arrived at" of Woodrow Wilson. It does not sit well with the people and it is time it was abandoned.

THERE SEEMS, particularly, no excuse for it now in view of the wholehearted Republican support for his foreign policy which has been given Mr. Roosevelt recently. As Mr. Ernest Lindley, one of the President's great friends, wrote the other day, "No President engaged in crucial international negotiations could ask more of the opposing political party at home than Mr. Roosevelt has received during the last few weeks." The speeches of Governor Dewey, Senators Vandenberg and Mr. John Foster Dulles, the letter of the freshmen senators, the resolution of Senator Ferguson and the significant silence of the shrunken group of dissenters have all proved that the people are overwhelmingly united in their international objectives.

AND, except from Senator Wheeler, he has almost complete support from the anti-New Deal Democrats—such as Senator Byrd. All of this as Mr. Lindley says, strengthened the President's hand very much. Considering these things, for him to come back this time and talk to the people through controlled and patronized press conferences and a "placidious radio pronouncement, is going to be pretty hard to take. If he can do this without protest about this conference, there seems no reason he cannot do it about the peace conference to follow. It is to be hoped that the spokesmen is wrong and that Mr. Roosevelt will see fit to tell the full story this time in the Churchill way, omitting only those things for which there is sound reason for keeping confidential. We are entitled to know a great deal more than is contained in an official communiqué—and we ought not to have to get it from Mr. Churchill.

Sees No Need Of Worrying Over The Nation

By HELEN ESSARY
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—It's barely possible I'm "not right bright" when I write "not right bright" over on the eastern shore of Maryland where I came from, you just "natchelly" don't know what's going on. You aren't aware of what people right around you are thinking. You don't know any more about "a trend" than a straw vote knows about a candidate two years before election day.

If I were "right bright," I wouldn't have reversed my first opinion that the commotion about dog fights by air and train stoppages, at the suggestion of Roosevelt sons, was exaggerated. But I did reverse my first opinion. I went serious about the goings-on of Elliott and James and of Mrs. Anna Boettiger Roosevelt. This was after I saw on the front page of a Monday newspaper two startling stories.

Story Change

No—no no escape of the younger Roosevelt was revealed. I shouldn't have been disturbed by that. What did disturb me was, first, James Roosevelt, who had denied he had had anything to do with the delay of the train, suddenly changed face and admitted that "at the suggestion of a train conductor" he did write ahead to Chicago and ask that a California train be held until he arrived.

Second: After many evasions about the requested air priority for Mrs. Elliott's 200-pound dog, Blaze, which caused the undumping of (Continued on Page Five)

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

One of the reasons why I am telling you this is because I get so many letters from my readers on the subject of religion.

As I have told you before, religion is a very risky subject about which to talk or to write, because no matter how much you talk or write about it, you can never win an argument or change a person's conviction. But here is what I want to tell you:

A group of clergymen, headed by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, pastor of the Marble Collegiate Reformed church, will issue a series of 52 booklets on the "how" of religion. The pamphlets will be entitled "Guidesposts."

I have no doubt that this is a very worthy enterprise and that it will do some good.

But it ought not to be necessary to have to explain religion to you in an extended series of "guidesposts."

Was there ever anything more beautiful than the Sermon on the Mount and did that need more than just a few hundred words to instruct you?

Count the number of words in the Ten Commandments. If you wish, and see how many words they required.

Religion, to me, at least, has always been something that I feel and breathe and live, not something that I read or hear.

Religion is life itself. Religion is your conscience. All the good that you do, all the love you have in your heart.

Almost every letter I get that deals with religion comes from people to whom the Bible has become a book of intolerance and restriction.

They overlook the beauty, the solace, the common sense the hope and promise of the Bible and see in it only something that helps them to criticize their neighbors and condemn everything that is human.

Brings Solutions

I recently bought a Concordance to the Bible, and whenever I have some problem that bothers me, I look up the particular subject and read the chapter and the verse to which the Concordance leads me.

And I have never yet failed to get something out of the Bible that brings me closer to the solution of my problem.

Why must Religion be made so complex and so involved?

Why not take it as part of yourself, as something that is in you fundamentally and of which the Bible, the preacher and the church are simply interpreters?

I don't care whether you are Protestant, Catholic or Jew—every faith leads you to God and God should lead you to peace and harmony and love.

One of the principal reasons why there is so much strife in religion is that there is too much dissension as to formula and method.

Is there a different heaven for Methodists? Presbyterians, for Roman Catholic or Greek Orthodox, for Hebrew or Modern Jew?

What is there to explain?

As long as you HAVE religion it matters not how you pray or what church you attend.

Your best guidepost should be your conscience and your only "how" to do unto others as you would want them to do unto you.

I think that the peace meant by the Brotherhood of Man.

The Parent Problem

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph. D.

PROBLEM OF ADOLESCENCE

Here is a kind of letter which often comes to me from youth:

"Dear Dr. Myers:

"I am a boy of seventeen years. I am having trouble with my face. I have many pimples and blackheads. I am using soap but it does not help me any. Please tell me what to do."

You see, I am not a physician and cannot give medical advice, but I guess no one can do harm by suggesting common sense. To him I wrote:

"I suggest you have a general physical examination by your doctor. In the meanwhile, it might be well to check on your health habits and your diet. Practically all experts would advise, in general, lots of fruit and leafy vegetables and not too much fat and sugar (candy and the like), less of potatoes or other starchy foods; and six or eight glasses of water a day, a daily bath, ample sleep, and outdoor exercise."

But of chief concern to me is the fact that the youth is worried about the pimply face, and that his parents are, indeed, responsible for most of his worries.

Source Of Suffering

Perhaps there is no greater source of suffering in terms of worry and self-consciousness of youth than that caused by our over-anxious, conscientious and delicate parents who stare at the pimply boy or girl in a curious fashion which the one so stared at is all too familiar with.

Ah, it's the silent look of a parent that may cut even deeper than poisonous words. Any reader knows what is in the staring parent's mind. Yet how absurd and how unjust! Such looks from parents have done more to lose the children's love than the average person ever realized.

Internal Changes

Youth and their parents ought to know that during adolescence, when so rapid internal changes are going on, the skin glands do not function as they should and that the pores of the skin then easily become clogged. We adults are so childishly suspicious, so heartless and so silly. Why do we make of ourselves such nuisances? Instead, we ought to help our adolescent children, already overwhelmed by needless worries and anxieties, most of which have no foundation whatsoever, to gain social courage, happiness and self-confidence.

Even if as in some rare instances, the staring parent's guess was right, his childish attitude and conduct in respect to it was wholly wrong. Help of the youth in any instance comes in assisting him to forget about his worries and remorse and to find wide interests outside himself, and satisfaction through achievement, together with lots and lots of wholesome fun with many other boys and girls.

The World and the Mud Puddles

STALIN AND "RABBIT-FRIED"

The Big Three—Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin—have been talking things over on the Black Sea. De Gaulle, who has been crying his eyes out because he has not yet been admitted to the councils of the Big Three, was not there as far as the public knows anything about it, and he probably wasn't.

They are supposed to have been conferring on peace, not only on the future conduct of the war, but in anticipation of the peace. And we hope that Mr. Roosevelt remembered and kept in mind that he is the representative, not the dictator, of the American people. And the American people hope that he has properly represented them.

It should be remembered that Joe Stalin "likes his rabbit fried." He does not like any rich rabbit soup to be doled out to the peoples of the world. As a sidelight to Stalin's probable attitude towards the peace of the world, it might be kept in mind that Hitler, finding Communistic France so easily overcome in the first months of the war, repudiated the alleged companionship with Stalin—the arrangement that Russia was a partner with Germany in the Axis—and with his armies invaded Russia, believing no doubt, that Communistic Russia was to be just as easily defeated as was Communistic France. But what an awakening the Germans did have when they reached Stalingrad.

Whatever plans Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill may have concerning the peace and the treatment of Germany and the other peoples of Europe, Mr. Stalin will still "like his rabbit fried."

Nazis' Chances For Offensive Fading Rapidly

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Germany's chances to launch a counter-offensive against the Red army are fading so rapidly that some military experts today believed that the Russians may soon force a breakthrough on the eastern front which may spell an early end of organized Nazi resistance.

These experts, hitherto cautious about predicting an end of European hostilities, believe now that all the Germans to gain the initiative and to take their promised counter-measures is due to a lack of manpower and reserves.

Two Areas Cited
Hitherto, in analyzing the possible measures the Germans might take, they have visualized two areas from which offensives might be launched against the flank of the Russian line aimed at Berlin. One of these areas lies to the north, near the Baltic, where reserves might have been gathered for an attack southward from Schneidemühl. The other lies in Silesia where massed reserves could strike from Breslau. Either offensive would be aimed at Pzian.

Now, however, Schneidemühl has been almost surrounded. Breslau is surrounded on three sides. Pzian is completely surrounded that the Garrison there would be of negligible value in driving any blows in either direction.

At the same time the Russians have developed spearheads from the north and south flanks of their salient which would make any Nazi attempt to strike at the main Red army bulge extremely hazardous, it was said.

Heavy German Losses

The heavy losses which the Germans have sustained during the Red army drive across Poland also are taken to indicate that Germany may not have the power to deliver a counterblow. In the past month, it is believed, her losses may well approach 800,000 men.

At the time the Russians started their winter offensive, Germany was estimated to have about 2,000,000 men on the eastern front. It is possible that she is maintaining that strength and even is increasing it. But this can be done by a heavy drain on reserve and large scale substitution of the Volkstrum for able troops. The Russians are believed to have between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 men engaged, at the least.

Moreover, the drive has netted heavy amounts of material. Each soldier captured represents also the loss of one man's equipment and supplies. The sweep forward undoubtedly has resulted in the destruction of many tanks, ammunition, heavy guns and motor equipment. These are already badly needed by the Germans. Tanks especially are necessary to stem the Russian tide.

With the Russians steadily advancing at many parts of the front, the loss is constantly increasing. Thousands of Germans are being killed daily, during the current incessant fighting. Russian pressure hasn't diminished in recent weeks.

This continual hammering, one experienced military man said, ultimately may open up some weak spot in a full fledged breach. Recalling his own experiences, he said that such constant pounding can go on for some time without results but that finally a breach is made and the attacking force can pour on and overrun the enemy.

Those New York City hi-jackers who swiped $3,000 worth of buffalo steaks must have a sense of humor. They pulled the job on Meatless Tuesday.

Glenn W. Fox and family of East Washington street have returned from attending the funeral services of his mother, Mrs. Anna H. Fox, 73, widow of W. W. Fox, conducted in the Osenider chapel in Oil City on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment was in the Chapmanville cemetery.

servicemen on their way to see sick relatives, it was disclosed that Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Boettiger had requested the priority.

To make my reaction more understandable, it was not the request for a priority and for delay in the train that was alarming. It was the obvious lack of a nice feeling for truth the young Roosevelt revealed in their sudden reversals.

A nice feeling for truth is so important in each and every member of a White House family. It encourages confidence in the people of the nation for whom the White House is the highest authority. Particularly true is this in time of a great war. Today, seriously wounded men are being "shipped back to the United States" at the rate of one thousand a day. One thousand a day! Think that number over. One thousand a day! This doesn't include the number of men killed, missing in action or taken prisoner.

It is likely that the number of men seriously wounded, killed or missing in action and taken prisoner will be increased or diminished during the next months by the decisions of the Big Three—Russia's Premier Josef Stalin, British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and President Roosevelt—now meeting at some undisclosed place.

Each one of these three (especially from our point of view, the representative of the United States in the conclave) needs every ounce of courage, clear thinking and honesty it is possible to muster in the human spirit. Otherwise, what will be the outcome of the war? Will sacrifice be washed out in the evasions and double dealings of discussion?

No Need For Worry
I brooded over such thoughts as these half the night. Worked myself into a sharp and noble state of moral indignation. Bitter, accusing words sprang into my mind as fast as sheep jump over insomnia fences. Charged with what seemed to me to be justifiable resentment of the ways of the young Roosevelt, I faced my typewriter this morning. I would call attention to the spectacle of a member of a presidential family denying a charge known to be true. I was bursting with superior virtue.

Then I decided to glance at the morning paper. What to my innocent eyes did appear, but a news story which began, "Col. Elliott Roosevelt, the president's second son, was approved by the Senate Military Affairs committee for promotion to brigadier-general." There was no growing about the dog incident.

Well, there you are. Even I can see now that I'm "not right bright". Why should I worry over the ethical state of the nation! Here was proof that Blaze was not a 200-pound mastiff in wolf's clothing. He was a brigadier-general in a priority disguise.

wrong again. An Englishwoman said to me, not five minutes ago: "What is all the pothee about an air ride for a dog and the stopping of a train? Surely there is nothing to get excited about. In England, we never give a second thought to the pranks of our royal family."

SOCKS & STOCKINGS

People spend a lot of time standing on their feet these days.

Painful feet cause a lot of discomfort. Considerable attention is paid to the necessity for properly fitting shoes.

There does not seem to be so much care about socks and stockings. Sometimes great care is taken to fit a pair of shoes. Then an improperly fitting sock is worn and all the trouble goes for nothing. Stocking feet should fit smoothly. They should not be too large nor too tight.

There should be no wrinkles nor lumps. They should be changed often and washed thoroughly. Some fellows wear golf socks all the time, nine holes.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Leaders Declare Poland Must Bow To Parley Decision

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(INS)—Senate administration leaders agreed today that Poland must bow to the new partition decreed by the "Big Three" conference despite the admittedly strong political influence of millions of American Poles.

At the same time, however, some fear was expressed that Polish resentment and an uprising of small nations may make it more difficult to rush senate ratification of a postwar security organization treaty, which is to be negotiated when the United Nations meet in San Francisco April 25.

Senators and representatives were being deluged with wires protesting against fixing of the Curzon line as the eastern boundary of Poland and scrapping of the Polish government in exile in London.

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

Treasures of the Kingdom

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson for February 18 is Matthew 12:4, the Memory Verse being James 1:17, "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father of lights.")

Our lesson today is so long, we can but touch briefly on many of the incidents related. It starts with Jesus and His disciples walking on a pleasant summer day through a wheat field, and as they walked, being hungry, they picked some ears of wheat and ate them.

The Pharisees, who hated Jesus, and always tried their best to bring about His destruction, asked Him, "He knew it was unlawful (according to the priests' laws, of which they were so strict) to do this on the Sabbath Day. Jesus referred them to the story of David who, when he and his companions were hungry, ate of the bread in the temple, which was unlawful for them to eat, and He said, also, 'The Son of Man is Lord even of the Sabbath.'"

Then Jesus went to the synagogue and a man with a withered hand was there. On the watch again, the Pharisees wondered if He would heal him, saying, "It is lawful to do good on the Sabbath?" He also told them that if they had a sheep that fell into a pit they would rescue it, Sabbath or no Sabbath, and how much better is a man than a sheep? The Pharisees, instead of feeling shame, went out and counseled to other how they might destroy Him.

Casts Out A Devil

Jesus also cast out a devil from a man which had caused him to be deaf and dumb, and at that the Pharisees said He was casting out evils by the power of the prince of evils, and Jesus had an answer to that, too.

As Jesus talked to the people, someone told Him His mother and brothers stood without, but Jesus answered, "Who is My mother and my brethren?" and pointing to His disciples he said, "Behold My mother and My brethren," saying also, "Whoever shall do the will of My Father which is in heaven, he same is My brother, and sister, and mother." All were His family, he believed in Him.

Jesus then told of the sower who sowed some seeds in stony places, some among thorns, and some in good earth, only the latter bringing forth a harvest. When the disciples asked Him why He talked in parables he said so that the people could understand better what He said. Those who heard Him and took His sayings to heart, were the good earth in which the seeds of His sayings grew and thrived, bringing forth a harvest for these people. He spoke several parables along this line to prove the point.

At this time Jesus heard of the death of John the Baptist who was beheaded by Herod to satisfy a promise he had given come to Jesus on the water, but when he walked a little way and saw the roughness of the waves he grew afraid, and would have sunk, but Jesus stretched forth His hand and said, "O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt?" When they entered the ship the wind ceased and all was calm.

No wonder that when the ship landed and the men of that place had knowledge of Him, they sought to touch the hem of His garment, so that as many as did became whole.

FIND DYNAMITE IN CAR

DETROIT, Feb. 15. (INS)—Three sticks of dynamite were placed in a car belonging to Roy Scoggins, regional director of the United Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Employees, CIO, in what looked like an apparent attempt at his life, it was learned today.

Police said they found the dynamite Jan. 26 after receiving an anonymous telephone call. The caller told them to investigate a certain automobile on a parking lot at 40 Sibley.

When they entered the ship the wind ceased and all was calm.

Speaker for the evening will be L. P. Kohn. Refreshments will be served in the social rooms of the synagogue afterwards.

Tifereth Israel Services Friday

The Tifereth Men's club will sponsor the Friday evening services at the Tifereth Israel synagogue Friday evening, at 8 o'clock, under the leadership of Rabbi Hyman Kriash.

Speaker for the evening will be L. P. Kohn. Refreshments will be served in the social rooms of the synagogue afterwards.

Aged Man Weeps As Judge Suspends His Five-Year Sentence

Convicted Of Manslaughter Of Teacher, Septuagenarian Is Placed On Probation

FAIRMONT, W. Va., Feb. 15.—(INS)—Benjamin Franklin Male, 74, today headed for Grafton, W. Va., overcome with joy after his manslaughter sentence of five years had been suspended by Judge Charles E. Miller.

Judge Miller first sentenced the septuagenarian, who voluntarily returned to his native West Virginia to stand trial for the school teacher slaying in 1935, to an indeterminate sentence of one to five years in the Moundsville penitentiary.

The jurist suspended the sentence and placed Male on probation after being told that Male probably would not survive the prison term because of his health and age.

"The constant fear of apprehension that Male lived under for nearly 40 years probably was more punishment than any court could prescribe," the judge said.

Male wept for joy as he left the court room after the sentence was suspended. He told the crowd who saw him off to Grafton that he would be back in a few days to see a little more of Fairmont "before I pull out for good."

Plan To Print Dr. Fowlkes Report

Due to the interest shown in the report of the survey of the New Castle schools made recently by Dr. John Guy Fowlkes and associates of the University of Wisconsin, the New Castle school board will ask for bids on 500 printed copies of the full report.

At the meeting of the board held Wednesday night Superintendent

Frank L. Burton reported that a large number of the school teachers had signified their desire to get a complete copy and were willing to pay for it. In addition, requests have come in from outside school districts and from colleges and universities.

In addition, the board finds widespread interest in the report among the citizens and has had a condensation of the report made. These will be printed and distributed. The condensation carries all findings and recommendations, but has left out some of the more academic discussion which while of interest to educators is not particularly necessary to one who wants to get the sense of the report without reading it throughout.

SPENDING DROPS
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—War expenditures in January totaled $7,520,000,000, a decline of four per cent from December, the War Production Board reported today. This brought total war expenditures from July 1, 1940, through January to $252,000,000,000.

Teacher Resigns At Croton School

Other Routine Matters Before Board At Meeting Wednesday Night

Routine business matters were passed upon by the New Castle School board Wednesday night when it met for the regular monthly business session in the administration building in East street.

Mrs. Elsie Davis Dye, a teacher of the Croton school who has been on a sabbatical leave presented her resignation due to illness in her family. The resignation was accepted.

In the statistical report of Superintendent Frank L. Burton, the enrollment of the New Castle schools for December 1944 was shown at 8019 with an average attendance of 7181, or 90 per cent. The school showing the highest percentage of attendance was Mahoning with 93 and the lowest North street with 86 per cent.

Bills for sundries needed during the month of January, amounting to $8875.02 were authorized paid.

Anniversary Of Maine Day Is Observed Here

Veterans Of Spanish-American War
Gather For Annual Event
Last Night

Members of Col. Daniel Leasure camp, Spanish War Veterans, and their wives gathered in the American Legion home on Wednesday evening for their annual banquet. Rev. Abram Shaffer gave the invocation.

After the dinner, C. Ed. Brown, city clerk, presided.

The chairman called upon Major Guy J. Wedinger, past western vice commander of the American Legion, who after a humorous short address, introduced two soldier guests from Deshon hospital annex, Pvt. F. M. Smith of Philadelphia and Pvt. C. A. Tamen of Uniontown, former reporter with the "Herald".

Pvt. Smith was wounded at St. Lo in Normandy, and gave high praise to the Medical Corps for their splendid work. Pvt. Tamen was in the China-India-Burma war theater, where he was wounded. He was attached to the "Marauders". Both gave some of their experiences.

Clever demonstrations in twirling were given by Misses Joan Ziegler, Sue Cooper, Jean Tribby with Mrs. Lois Laughlin, accompanist.

Pvt. C. C. Green, a Spanish War veteran, former superintendent of New Castle schools was introduced.

Dr. Green gave a spirited address, saying that in this war our boys are fighting, among other things, for the welfare of the younger generation. In the war of 1898, Spanish-American, we became known as a nation to the world, in first World War as a first class nation, and in the second World War as the greatest and most powerful nation, and not too proud to fight when it is necessary. He said he will raise his voice for a strong prepared America against war, and hoped we will not be persuaded otherwise by pacifists.

Others who gave short talks were Lee Hanna, Commander Hunt of V.F.W., Orville Potter, register and recorder, Mrs. Elmer Suber, Alex Coulter, Bob Loudon, George Davies, Mrs. Ruth Stevens and Mrs. Charles Stoner prepared the splendid meal for which they were highly commended. Clarence Jarrett, Earl Jarrett, William Jarrett, and Nick Speed were the serving committee.

Car Is Struck On Crossing; Driver Escapes Injury

Clarence T. McConnell, Slippery Rock R. D. 3, a watchman at the American Cyanamid and Chemical plant, Covert Station, while crossing the P and L. E. tracks about 7:45 this morning, at Covert Station had his car demolished by a passing train, according to reports.

The car stalled on the track and was struck by a westbound freight train. The auto was knocked onto an adjoining track and hit also by a passenger train. The driver had jumped from the auto was not hurt.

There is nothing emptier, says Zadok Dumkopf, than a gas ration book when all the coupons have been used up.

Driver Escapes And Dog Food Salvaged On Edenburg Road

When a semi truck and trailer upset on the Edenburg highway, Route 224, at three a. m. today, Louis Snyder, operator, went with the vehicle over a 30 foot embankment but escaped injury excepting for a shaking up. The vehicles were damaged and a load of dog food enroute east was scattered over the road and embankment. A wrecker righted the vehicles and the dog food was salvaged.

The semi truck-trailer was passing a bakery truck, enroute west when the wheels of the former caught in a rut carrying off water and it went over the embankment.

Pleads Guilty To Espionage

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—(INS)—Interrupting his trial for espionage against the United States as it convened for the eighth day, 63-year-old Simon Emil Koedel entered a surprise plea of guilty today in Federal Court, Brooklyn.

Koedel, who has been on trial with his foster-daughter, Marie Koedel, 26, since February 7, is accused with her of gathering shipping information in New York harbor and conspiring to transmit it to the German military.

Koedel's attorney, Andrew Portoghesi, told reporters his client's sudden decision to change his plea resulted from the introduction in the trial of letters and papers allegedly sent him by Nazi war leaders, containing inquiries regarding marine movements in this area.

Judge Robert A. Inch set March 1 as the date for sentencing Koedel.

Merchant Marine Officer Suicides

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15.—(INS)—A young merchant marine officer plunged to his death today, police reported, less than ten minutes after his wife threatened to separate from him.

The officer was identified as Lt. (jg) Arthur Wassum, 22, of Northampton, Pa. His wife Rhoda, 21, is a chorus girl in a Philadelphia night club.

Mrs. Wassum told police her husband arrived in Philadelphia last night from overseas duty. When she told him of her plans to leave him "he kept pleading with me not to divorce him," she told police.

After two hours, she said, she left his room at the Walton hotel with the promise to "think it over". Ten minutes later she returned to the hotel, planning "to talk it over further", and found a group of persons gathered around his body on Broad street.

Mantz Talks On Minor Judiciary At Kiwanis Club

Veteran Fourth Ward Alderman
Gives Interesting Talk On Jurisdiction Of Office Wednesday

New Castle Kiwanis Club members heard an interesting talk by one of their own members at their noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Wednesday, when Alderman L. C. Mantz, who has dispensed justice in the Fourth Ward for the past thirty years, spoke on the jurisdiction of his office in various types of cases.

Mr. Mantz told of the different types of cases which can be settled by an Alderman's court, and others in which action is instituted in an Alderman's court but which must be taken to a higher court for trial by jury.

He also gave a few interesting sidelights on cases which had been tried in his court during his long term of office.

First Lt. William A. Greer, who has just returned from England where he has been stationed for the past year as pilot of a B-24 bomber, was a special guest of the club.

Settled first by Scotch-Irish from Pennsylvania and Virginia and then by New Englanders, Ohio became a state in 1803. Its beautiful state house at Columbus was completed in 1861. The limestone was transported from quarries northwest of the city by railroad built especially for the purpose.

Williamsburg, Virginia, was settled as Middle Plantation in 1633, as an outpost palisade against the Indians.

C.I.O. Votes Are Being Counted

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 15.—(INS)—Possibly more than a week may be needed to count the votes of 750,000 United States and Canadian steelworkers in the first referendum election of officers for the CIO United Steelworkers of America, spokesmen today held.

Re-election of President Philip Murray, Secretary-Treasurer David J. McDonald and assistants to the president Van A. Bittner and Clinton S. Golden was unopposed.

Among district directors opposed was James Quinn, District 26, Youngstown, O., whose office was sought by J. Gallagher, of Cincinnati and Carl E. Beck of Youngstown.

Sixteen Sledgers Die During Month

Revenue Department Urges Organized Sledding Areas To Help Reduce Accidents

HARRISBURG, Feb. 15.—(INS)—Organized sledding areas to help reduce fatal accidents were urged by the revenue department today in the wake of 16 coasting fatalities during January, three more than occurred during all of 1944.

The deaths of 26 sledgers in the past two years and the 16 already known killed during January could undoubtedly have been prevented if organized sledding areas had been provided and if both parents and local authorities had cooperated to the end that these specified areas were used and controlled, the department said.

Simultaneously, the department reported Pennsylvania traffic fatalities decreased 3.9 per cent last year compared with 1943. There were 1244 highway deaths in 1944 compared with 1295 in the previous year.

Pedestrian deaths constituted 54 per cent of the fatal accidents last year, the department added. Two hundred children under 15 years of age were killed in motor accidents during 1944, an increase of 46 deaths in the same age group in the previous year.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or painful passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits a poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Sues Doctor For Bringing Friends To Delivery Room

BROOKVILLE, Pa., Feb. 15.—(INS)—An attending nurse at Adrian hospital today had testified that two men were in the vicinity of the delivery room when Dr. W. L. Brohm, prominent Punxsutawney physician and surgeon, performed the delivery of a girl to Mrs. Velma Thomas, 27, one year ago.

Mrs. Inda West Feller, an anesthetist at the hospital, said that during the delivery she glanced up from her work and saw Arthur Spencer, a railroad machinist standing at the door of the delivery room. Later, Mrs. Feller testified, she saw Robert Singleton, Punxsutawney furniture store owner, standing in the hallway.

Mrs. Thomas, in her "free birth show" suit, claiming that the doctor brought two of his friends from a club, herself identified the two men as the "unwelcome guests."

Dr. Brohm in his denial to the suit, claimed that no one was in the room except Mrs. Thomas, two regular nurses and himself. Under examination, Dr. Brohm admitted that he had been at the club before going to the hospital.

Letters From Prisoner Of War In Germany

(Editor's note: following is another in a series of "Letters from a Prisoner of War", written from a German prison camp by INS War Correspondent Lowell Bennett, who was captured by the Nazis after he was shot down during an RAF raid on Berlin.)

By LOWELL BENNETT
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

Prison camp conversation is a subject unique. It reaches its peak these long winter nights after "lights out".

A typical night, with the lads dropping off to dream of home, is just about like this:

"That flak was terrific . . . that was striped flak, polka dot flak, rainbow flak . . ."

"Save your horror story for the civilians fellow. Let's talk about women in England . . ."

"Yeah . . . remember those gals who . . ."

"That's nothing. I remember a town in Texas . . ."

"Why don't the send some good books? These English authors stink . . ."

"We were at 27,000 feet, and the flak . . ."

"A guy got a white feather in a letter yesterday . . . they think we're cowards just because we're prisoners . . ."

"Let me tell you about the flak over . . ."

"Flak? That reminds me, we've got to play the Flak Dodgers for the basketball league championship tomorrow . . ."

"When I get home I'm going to buy the nearest hamburger stand, and then . . ."

"That flak was thick you could . . ."

"Hey, you married guys, what do you think your wives are doing? Sitting at home knitting?"

"One night I was down to London on a pass and . . ."

"Now, if I was Eisenhower . . ."

"This flak . . ."

"Hell, we'll be here 'til Easter."

"Sure, but think of the guys in Japan . . ."

"I could see the flak eating in towards . . ."

"Can you imagine what the boys in Paris are . . ."

"The fighter was winking at us with those 30 calibers, so I told my gunners . . ."

"Aw shut up and hit the sack . . ."

"I got a big day tomorrow. I got to sew up my sweater and go to French class . . ."

"Wonder where the RAF is to-night?"

"Now, that flak . . ."

Ryantown Post 6-2 Tuesday evening joined the Emergency Disaster Committee and had their identification cards stamped "Emergency Warden" which gave them authority to act in any emergency when the personnel is requested by the heads of committee to act. Other posts are expected to follow the action of Post 6-2 immediately.

Action may not always bring happiness, but there is no happiness without action.—Benjamin Disraeli.

Japanese Defense Looks Like Suicide

New Castle Flyer, Artillery Observer

On Luzon, Describes Japanese Last Stand Tactics

By LEE VAN ATTA

LUZON, Philippines, Feb. 14—

(INS)—In the low foothills of the frequently razor-backed Cabusilian ranges and perhaps five miles from Clark Field, the Japs still are fighting in that strange chain of alleged military maneuvers which they describe as "brilliant defense" and we describe as a futile suicide stand, in caves in the hills.

Lt. Fred Kuttesch of New Castle, Pa., describes the latest enemy maneuver as a long line of Jap operations which not only violate every text book rule on strategy, but wouldn't even be included in a text book. Kuttesch has flown over them nearly 20 times in the last few days in his task as artillery observer.

"It's the damndest war you can imagine," Kuttesch said. "We have flown over those cave entrances as often as four times a day. Three times you won't even see a shot, and the fourth time it will look as though half the explosive factories in the world are producing for your benefit."

"I have seen them when they were trying to shell our ground troops too. They run the gun out on little trolleys, quickly fire a couple of rounds and then rush back in again. They don't have any radar, and they would hate to have our bombers and strafers catch them with their guns out."

"What we can't figure out is what good they think they are doing, or rather what damage they reckon they are causing us."

A 19-year-old Coast Guardsman of Italian descent arrived in Italy to find himself heir to five houses and an 85-foot sailboat, bequeathed to him by a hitherto unknown family.

Sen. Vandenberg Awaits Invitation To Attend Parley

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(INS)—

Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich.) said today that he has not received an invitation to attend the United Nations conference in San Francisco on April 25 as a delegate.

The first news he had of his selection as a delegate was through a newspaper, he said.

"Will you attend if invited?" he was asked by newsmen.

"As the president would say, that is an 'Ify' question," he replied.

However, high congressional sources said there was no doubt but that Vandenberg would attend the conference.

Sen. Tom Connally (D-Tex., chairman of the foreign relations committee, Chairman Sol Bloom (D-N.Y., of the house foreign affairs committee and Rep. Charles Eaton (R-N.J., also slated as delegates to the San Francisco parley were understood to have received no formal invitation.

News of the selection of members of congress as delegates was given out by War Mobilizer James P. Byrnes.

There was intimation in some quarters that Byrnes had "jumped the gun" and made the statement in advance of official invitation by the president to the members of congress.

Members of the Confucian Society in China do not believe in divorce; the wife is subject to her husband's authority throughout her life.

State Arranges To Protect War Plants In Case Of Floods

HARRISBURG, Feb. 15.—(INS)—

Plans were being shaped by state officials today to protect Pennsylvania war plants against production stoppages in event of heavy spring floods.

Preventive measures were discussed by federal officials and representatives of five states at Harrisburg yesterday. Federal engineering and medical aid was promised in case of inundation. The states were Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, New Jersey and New York.

G. E. Knox, U. S. geological survey official, said a flood of 1936 proportions was not anticipated, but stressed industries should acquaint themselves with forecasting services and be prepared to meet inundation.

"Potentialities do exist at present for a good sized flood that could cause considerable damage and flood a good many industries out," he stated.

Advice is not disliked because it is advice; but because so few people know how to give it.—Leigh Hunt.

MARKET TONE IS FIRMER TODAY

Trading Quiet And Price Movements Narrow As Market Continues Firm

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—(INS)—
The Stock Market continued generally firm today but trading quiet and price movements were narrow as the investing community took a breather following yesterday's powerful 2,000,000 share session.

Rails turned sluggish in forenoon trading while other groups were barely changed. First hour trading approximated only 280,000 shares vs. a half million at the start Wednesday.

Illinois Central, Southern Pacific and Northern Pacific were among the rails tapering fractionally. Chesapeake & Ohio, continuing strong Bethlehem Steel was steady around yesterday's final. General Motors was a shade easier as was U. S. Steel. At 99 1/2 Chrysler was unchanged.

Honors for strength went to aviation which advanced as much as a half point led by Douglas Aircraft. Small gains were predominant in chemicals, oils, and foods. Utilities drifted lower.

The bond market was quiet.

Stalin Victor, Says Wheeler

Senator Sees "Big Three" Agreement As Great Vic- tory For Russian Imperialism

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Sen. Wheeler (D) Mont., said today that the "Big Three" agreement of President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin "is a great victory for Stalin and Russian imperialism".

But Sen. Connally (D) Texas, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, and Republican Senate Leader White predicted such general approval that the Senate will ratify a treaty for a world peace organization.

Wheeler was joined in his declaration that Marshal Stalin won a victory in the negotiations carried on at Yalta, by Sen. Shipstead (R) Minn.

"Nothing came out of his conference that means anything toward future peace so far as has been disclosed," said Wheeler.

"You are going to have a vacuum in Europe when this war is over. There is just one way to fill that vacuum and preserve Western civilization and that is by setting up a United States of Europe."

Russia Will Control
Under the present situation, Wheeler said, Russia will control Europe and a large part of Asia. He recalled that he predicted this before the U. S. entered the war.

"He called for a bill of rights for Europe. Similar to that of the United States, with guarantees of religious and political freedom."

"You are not going to solve the problems of Europe by substituting a Russian form of dictatorship and Russian imperialism for what they've got now rotten as it is," declared Wheeler.

Connally predicted that the final Dumbarton Oaks plan will reach the Senate about mid-June, following the April 25 United Nations conference at San Francisco.

Wheeler conceded that an international organization treaty may be ratified.

"No international machinery, however good the intentions behind it, can preserve peace when the cardinal principles of liberty and justice are abandoned as they have been with reference to Poland and the small countries in mid-Europe," said Wheeler.

Sen. Ball (R) Minn., a leader in the movement for International collaboration, voiced disappointment over fixing of the Eastern Polish boundary on the Curzon line. But he said the pledges to observe the Atlantic charter outweighed this point.

Teaching Now Lacks Religion, Declares Westminster Prexy

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 15.—(INS)—A revival of faith is the prime need of present-day education, Dr. Robert F. Galbreath today claimed.

Addressing the annual founder's day meeting of the Allegheny county council, parent teacher associations, the president of Westminster college pictured education, government and society as falling apart because they lacked the "integrating factor" of religious faith. "Our generation is peculiarly bewildered... we lack sense of direction... schools attempt too many courses without doing any of them as well as they should be done," he said.

"We need something to give life meaning and destiny. If a teacher is not an upholder of idealism and moral splendor he is not a complete teacher."

The first rocket bomb, we read, was invented by a Chinese in 1232 A. D. Too bad he didn't aim it at Japan.

To Relieve Bad Cough In a Hurry, Mix This at Home

Swift Acting, and Saves Big Money. Easily Mixed.

You'll be surprised how quickly and easily you can relieve coughs due to colds, when you try this splendid recipe, mixed in your own kitchen. It gives you about four times as much of a cough syrup for your money, and you'll find it wonderful for real relief.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed—It's no trouble at all. (You can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.) Then put 2½ ounces of Pinex (obtained from any drugist) into a pint bottle. Add your syrup and you have a full pint of medicine that will amaze you by its quick action. It never spoils, lasts a family a long time, and tastes fine—children love it.

This simple mixture takes right hold of a cough. For real results, you've never seen anything better. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and eases the soreness.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well-known for its prompt action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.
